STOMACH IS SEAT OF HUMAN LIFE

New Theory Advanced by Young Man Is Spreading Over Entire Country.

J. T. Cooper's theory concerning the human stomach, which he claims to prove with his new medicine, is being given more respect and comment every day.

Cooper claims that 90 per cent. of all ill health is due to stomach trouble. When interviewed about his theory recently, he said: "Stomach trouble is the great cause of the 20th century so far as the civilized races are concerned. Practically all of the chronic ill health of this generation is caused by abnormal stomach conditions. In earlier days, when the human race was closer to nature, and men and women worked all day out of doors, digging their fingernails from the soil, the tired, drooping, halfhearted people that are now so common, did not exist.

"To be sure, there was sickness in those days, but it was of a virulent character, and only temporary. There was none of this half-sick condition all the time with which so many are afflicted nowadays.

"I know positively that every bit of this chronic ill health is caused by stomach trouble. The human stomach in civilized people today is degenerate. It lacks tone and strength. This weakness has gradually come through a sedentary existence. I further know that few people can be sick with the digestive apparatus in perfect shape. The real reason for my success is because my New Discovery medicine tones the stomach up to required strength in about six weeks' time. That is why I have had more people come and thank me wherever I have gone to introduce my medicine, than I have had time to talk with.

"Among the numerous numbers of people who are now strong believers in Cooper's theory and medicine is Mrs. M. E. Delano, a prominent resident of the suburb of Brookline, Boston, Mass. She says: 'For several years I was broken in health, caused primarily by stomach and nerve troubles. I gradually became weaker, until recently I was compelled to go without solid food for days at a time. I had sour stomach, indigestion, heart, dyspepsia, and extreme nervousness. I suffered terribly with insomnia, and my liver, bowels and whole system gradually became deranged. I felt instant relief the first day I began this Cooper medicine. I now feel like a new being. Today I know all over town, shopkeepers, neighbors, I have not done for years.

"I make this statement wholly from a sense of duty. I feel I owe it to anyone who might find relief and renewed happiness as I have done. The record made by the Cooper medicine is something to be proud of. I will take pleasure in discussing it with anyone who wishes to know about this."

RHEUMATISM

BLOOD FILLED WITH URIC ACID

Rheumatism comes from an excess of uric acid in the blood. This acid circulating through the system acts as an irritant to the different muscles, nerves, bones and tissues of the body, and produces the inflammation and swelling of the joints and the sharp, cutting pains characteristic of the disease. When the blood is overburdened with uric acid it continually grows weaker and more acid, and poorer in nourishing qualities. Then Rheumatism becomes chronic, and not only a painful, but a formidable and dangerous disease. Sometimes the heart is attacked, the general health is affected, and the oils and fluids which lubricate the muscles and joints are destroyed by the acid matter which the blood is constantly depositing in them; the muscles shrink and lose their elasticity, the coating of the joints becomes hard and thick, and often the sufferer is left a helpless cripple. S. S. S. attacks the disease at its head, goes down into the circulation, and by neutralizing and removing the uric acid from the circulation and building up the thin, acid blood, cures Rheumatism permanently. S. S. S. changes the sour, acid-hardened blood to a rich, healthy stream which quiets the excited system, eases the throbbing, painful muscles and joints, and filters out of the system the irritating matter which is causing the pain and inflammation. Begin the use of S. S. S. now and get the cure out of your blood so that the cold and dampness of Winter will not keep you in constant pain and misery. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free.

BLACK SQUIRREL

This Famous Stallion had a National Reputation and Was Owned in Mexico—Interesting Information—J. R. Stanhope's Accident

A large number of our people are interested in the history of "Black Squirrel," formerly owned in Mexico, as there are quite a number of his colts in this country. The following are some extracts taken from an article in the Kentucky Farmer & Breeder, written by Joseph M. Garrett, who owned "Black Squirrel" when he died.

"Black Squirrel" as a colt, was sold by J. C. Graves, of Kentucky, for $90, but later on was bought back by him.

As a four-year-old Mr. Graves made a season with the horse and showed him the following fall, and his success was remarkable. He attracted attention and criticism from every quarter. The wonderful style of the horse, his long quarters, high tail, small muzzle, erect ears and large eyes brought him to the height of popularity at the very beginning of his career. In 1881 Mr. Graves made a very large season with Squirrel and his popularity was not less in the show ring during the summer and fall of that year. Then it was that Mr. Lee Morris of Kentucky, who was in Kentucky looking for a saddle stallion, saw Black Squirrel and in his own words, "When Squirrel came down the stretch racing a three-minute clip, with head and tail so high that Mr. Graves could scarcely be seen, eyes seemed to be bursting out, ears perfect, he looked like a war horse, and when in front of the grand stand he burst into a great trot the crowd went wild and I went with them."

Mr. Morris bought the horse, not because Mr. Graves wanted to sell him, but the offer was tempting and Mr. Graves had not hounded his finances well enough to stand the strain. And thus parted horse and owner whose names will be coupled together as long as saddle horses are bred in Kentucky.

UNFORTUNATE SALE

The sale was in many ways unfortunate. Squirrel was popular and getting the best horses in his section, his colts were of the highest quality and he promised great things in the show ring. Then, too, Mr. Joseph Stanhope, whose health in Missouri was not good and whose physician there had discouraged him, had come back to his native State to consult his family physician here, and, receiving a still more unfavorable answer, was turning again to Missouri, when he was engaged to take Black Squirrel with him. The car in which the two were making the journey was wrecked near St. Louis and a timber pinned Mr. Stanhope to the floor of the car, while Squirrel had a plank thrust through his side and lay struggling with his shoed feet at Mr. Stanhope's head. The latter thought he would be killed instantly, but, reaching out his hand he touched the suffering horse and spoke to him and there was not another struggle; the horse seemed to realize the situation and lay perfectly still, grunting in the greatest agony. This was but one instance of the remarkable docility and perfect temper of Black Squirrel.

RESULTS OF ACCIDENT

It is well remembered to this day how Mr. Stanhope died from the injuries received in this wreck and how the railroad company refused to pay the doctor's reports, and how a post-mortem was held and Mr. Stanhope was found to be a sound man and the money had to be paid; how Squirrel was supposed to be valueless and Mr. Morris refused to receive him, and how the railroad company took him in charge and for a long time he lay in a veterinary hospital in St. Louis, where he was kept in a stable, and how after he was accepted, he was taken to Mexico, Mo., where he made six or seven seasons in the stud.

"The estimate generally expressed by people of Squirrel was a very high one, and quite often expressed as strongly as was done by the Texas sheriff. When I was riding along the same road in a rather a cowboy style and two smaller men who were handcuffed together, and that all three were looking intently at Squirrel. When about to pass them the large man asked me if I would mind stopping a minute to let him get a good look at the horse. After a thorough inspection he said: 'Well, mister, that is just a B-I of a horse and no mistake. A dark turning to one of the prize winners, and I have never seen a better. Pedro, how long could you keep your hands off that nag? Pedro replied: 'Me no take him; every one see me; get caught too quick. So take him all around I do not wish to see Squirrel's equal.'

Wilmore Garrett went to St. Louis October 1899 and purchased "Black Squirrel" from Dr. Crowley, at what was considered a good low price for a thirteen-year-old horse.

The Saddle Horse Register shows more horses by or tracing to Black Squirrel than any other three stallions that have lived in the past twenty years.

Nex McDonald gets his grates from Black Squirrel while the stallions kept for service by this horse far outnumber those kept for service by any other sire of saddle horses of these times lived. Nearly every one of these horses was sired by Squirrel in Kentucky during the eight seasons made here. What position would Black Squirrel hold had he made his other horses to answer. We know that even as he was the greatest sire of sires here was the George Wilkes among saddle horses, while there is no thoroughbred to hold the same rank among runners.

Black Squirrel died June 20, 1906, lies by the side of Montrose at Highland Place, the only horse to claim rivalry with him while alive, but the claim was all for Black Squirrel stood alone and will remain king of saddle horses unless some son of his will take the honor with him, or at most, in our humble opinion, the honor will be worn by some descendant of old Betie.

Invitations for the two governors to come to Chicago and speak on enforcement of the closing law will be sent to them to-day. With the governors and ex-Mayor Jones in Chicago it is planned to have a big mass meeting in which the sentiment of the public in regard to Sunday closing can be displayed.

MANY FIRES IN TOWN.

Did Little Damage and Were Really a Good Thing for Many People.

There were quite a number of small fires yesterday which were actually a good deal of benefit to many people. In the first place they helped the trade of C. A. Buckner & Co., our popular druggists, as they sold the Wadsworth Bros.' "Chico" which were burned. Then they benefited the smokers, for it certainly is a benefit to any man to find a cigar for $2 that will give him more satisfaction than 100 cigars have before.

We might say truthfully that these cigars were a good thing for many people, as nothing makes a man more good natured than a satisfactory smoke such as he always gets when he lights a "Chico."

C. A. Buckner & Co. have secured the local agency for Wadsworth Bros.' "Chico," and waste all smokers to try them and see that at last it is possible to get a real Havana cigar, well made, good size, free smoker, delicious flavor, for 5c. Better try a "Chico" on their recommendation.

To One in Heaven
Nov. 28, 1906, P.M.
We bent to-day o'er a coffin
And our tears fell softly down
We looked our last on thy face
With its look of peace, thy hair
And hair like a silver crown
We thought our own to the end
From life's labor at rest
Free from earth's fretful cares
O'er a peaceful slumber
The grim death angel came
Nor paroling fever's tale
And farewells were said
Thy feet that faltered, hushed
Again;
Thy hands are useless now
Thine eyes
Beams bright the joy of God.
And thou art learning
Lone are the paths and sad
When thy meek smile is gone
But, oh! a brighter home
In Heaven is now thine own
Thou dwellest in heavenly eye hath seen
Nor ear hath heard, nor heart
The vision thou dost now
And
And splendor of a world
filled.
We miss thee nowhere! Oh! how it will flow
Unbidden and our soul
chilled
And were with thoughts
know
That all is well that by willed
Not now but in the coming
It may be in the better
We'll read the meaning of
And there, oh, there, we'll stand
We'll catch the broken
And finish what we here
Heaven will the mystery
And then, oh, then, we'll
In sorrow, yet in hope, we'll time—
The coming of the days all
God.
When we, too, shall seek the
That waits us far beyond
ing flood
And there a joyous welcome
give;
A song of rapture that the
sing,
Ad with Thee in his
shall live
And Through eternal
Christ, Our King.
Pain would we wait a while
doubt wait,
With heavy hand and brain
Lying low,
Living a life of Christ's take
A single task to labor by day
Strength for all his weary for grief.
The wisdom that will
way;
These, Father, grant, till
bring relief.
And lead us to the gates of day.
